

Unbelievable Argentina

Before the Second World War, Argentina was one of the seven richest countries in the world. After the Second World War, Argentina was replaced by Japan. Argentina abounds with beef. It is so unbelievable that instances of children who died of malnutrition should occur nowadays.

Argentina is a democratic country which also practices liberal economy. The reason why it encounters such serious fiscal crises is entirely due to the corrupt and inefficient government. People in Argentina are indeed unfortunate.